

Demolition in Progress: A Panel Discussion on Breaking Through Barriers to Advancement in Commercial Real Estate Law

37th Annual Real Property Law Section Retreat

A panel of five intergenerational female Commercial Real Estate attorneys put their hardhats on to have an honest and interactive discussion with the audience on how to counter bias specific to the real estate industry, and identify known strategies that can be employed by male and female allies. With years of collective experience and insights, all attendees will walk away with new tools and architectural plans to move the needle ever closer to a bias-free profession.
