Emails to Algorithms: Public Records Challenges in the AI Era

Burke partner Leah Castella and Associate Alexandra Mulhall will present at the 2026 City Attorneys Spring Conference, hosted by the League of California Cities. Their session "Emails to Algorithms: Public Records Challenges in the AI Era" highlights the intersection of public law and emerging technology,

As technology continues to evolve, so does the public records landscape. This session will explore the growing complexities in responding to public records requests in an AI-driven environment—and offer practical, policy-focused solutions to help public agencies minimize risk while embracing innovation.

Join us for an insightful discussion on how public entities can adapt to new technologies while maintaining transparency, compliance, and operational efficiency.
