

#NotYouToo: Advanced Harassment Prevention Training For HR Professionals And Managers

2018 CALPELRA Annual Conference
Monterey Conference Center

California law requires basic workplace harassment prevention training for officials, managers, and supervisors. This is not that training. This session's presenters take a deep dive into the more complicated and advanced questions human resources professionals and managers face when dealing with workplace harassment issues. You'll learn how to promote a culture that focuses on the prevention of harassment; you'll learn how to conduct or oversee an investigation; you'll learn about proper interim measures and implementing effective remedial action; and you'll learn about privacy and confidentiality concerns.
