Work-Life & Creating Balance: 2.0

Women in Law & Leadership

Creating a balanced professional and personal life can be one of the toughest challenges lawyers face, both for in-house and outside counsel. It's clear there is not a simple solution, or a once size fits all approach. This panel explores the realities women face as they build a fulfilling career while also financially and emotionally supporting themselves – and potentially their family. How to create some level of balance professionally and personally in a world where the workforce is continually asked to do and be more?

This panel will examine:

- Work-life balance in 2018 – oxymoron or real possibility?
- Crafting a game plan that works for your life and goals
- Flexible work arrangements: career solution or dead end?
- Managing key relationships: family, clients, boss, colleagues
