Erik Bedrosian is in Burke's Litigation Practice Group. Erik holds a Juris Doctorate from UC Law San Francisco (formerly UC Hastings), with a Business Law concentration. He earned his B.A. in Philosophy and Communication from the University of California, Santa Barbara (UCSB) in 2020.

During law school, Erik interned at an IP & Business law firm and in the Employment Department of an international semi-conductor company. He was a student-associate in the Startup Legal Garage clinic, which provides free legal services to startups under the supervision of top venture capital and startup lawyers. Erik was also an active member of the Sports Law Society (SLS), through which he competed in the 2024 Tulane International Baseball Arbitration Competition. He is now the Alumni coach of the UC Law SF Baseball Arbitration Team.

Following law school, Erik worked as an associate at a Workers' Compensation defense firm before switching over to Burke's litigation practice.

Erik is a Bay Area Native and currently lives in San Francisco. He is an avid fan of the Golden State Warriors, San Francisco Giants, and San Francisco 49ers. In his free time, Erik enjoys cooking, playing soccer and basketball, and skiing.
