H. James Wulfsberg is a nationally recognized expert in construction law. He has over 35 years' experience in all phases of the construction process, including design-bid-build, design-build, engineering procurement construction contracting, construction management, CM at Risk and public works projects. He has assisted Project Owners, EPC Contractors, Contractors, Architects and Engineers, Program and Construction Managers, and Developers in finding procurement and claims evaluation methodologies, developing procurement documents, negotiating and drafting contracts, negotiating and administering contract claims, and developing claims avoidance and dispute resolution strategies and procedures.

Jim has represented clients in mediation, arbitration, and litigation. He has represented EPC contractors, public and private owners, architects and engineers, in a variety of major private, public works, and power process projects throughout the United States, Latin America, Europe, and the Middle East. Jim has tried numerous cases to verdict in arbitration, court and jury trials with claims in excess of $500 million.
