

RELATED PRACTICES

Constitutional Law
Law Enforcement Defense
Employment Law and Litigation

RELATED PEOPLE

Temitayo (“Ope”) Peters
Gregory B. Thomas

Are Deputy Sheriffs Who Provide Courthouse Security Entitled to Eleventh Amendment Immunity in California?

Burke Beat Article

In 1997, the Supreme Court had the opportunity to consider this novel question in McMillian v. Monroe County, Alabama, 520 U.S. 781 (1997). The subject lawsuit arose after employees of Monroe County, including the Sheriff of Monroe County, allegedly intimidated the plaintiff “into making false statements and suppressed exculpatory evidence.”

Read more.