

Limitations on the Scope of Psychological Expert Testimony in Child Abuse Cases

The People vs. Julian (2019) case underscores the legal limitations of psychological expert testimony in child abuse cases. Although psychologists may testify fully about CSAAS, they may not opine, directly or indirectly, on the statistical likelihood that an alleged victim is telling the truth. Read More.

RELATED PRACTICES

Education Law

RELATED PEOPLE

Jack P. Lipton, Ph.D.